

MRS. CLEVELAND'S HOLIDAY.

A GUEST OF LIEUT. GREELEY AT HIS MASSACHUSETTS HOME.

She slipped away from Washington, which first hears of her trip when she arrives at its End—The President's Plans.

New Bedford, Aug. 2.—The pleasant village of Marion has been in a flutter of excitement since the news came that Mrs. Cleveland, who came at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon from New York, by way of Fall River, and to Marion, via Middleboro, over the Old Colony road. The drawing-room car Puritan was placed at her disposal by the railroad officials. She was accompanied by Mrs. Folsom, her mother; Mrs. Walsh, her aunt, and Gen. A. W. Greely of the Signal Service Bureau, whose guests she and her relatives will be while in Marion.

The fact of Mrs. Cleveland's arrival was not known, and therefore but few persons were at the station to welcome her. Mrs. Cleveland was plainly attired in a travelling dress of brown silk, and was fully prepared to meet the inclemency of the weather. The party took carriages and proceeded to the residence of Capt. Emerson Hadley, where they are to stop. Mrs. Cleveland is much pleased and surprised by the beauty of the town, and of the opinion that it is an excellent place for rest and recuperation. The weather was wet and disagreeable all day, and frequent showers gave excuse enough to remain indoors.

A self-constituted committee of ladies conferred to-day as to the propriety of tendering to Mrs. Cleveland a luncheon at the residence of a distinguished lady, but if any plans were formulated they had not, up to this evening, been made public. From a conversation with persons likely to know, it is thought that Mrs. Cleveland will not care to have any demonstration partaking of a public character made, and that the ladies will content themselves with a quiet relaxation from the arduous duties of the past season.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Cleveland's departure for the Massachusetts coast was a matter of course, and it is not surprising that she had gone came over the wire from the other end of the journey. The President his official business there. He has Secretary Whitney for a near neighbor, and Secretary O'Brien, who is a member of the board, has been his guest. The semi-weekly Cabinet meeting was held in the library at O'Brien's home. The board has also voted it an improvement on the study room at the White House.

The president may go out of the city again before the summer term is over, but has not yet decided when or where. He is engaged in arranging the special session of his Cabinet trip, which will be held in Springfield, Oct. 2-3-4.

When asked to give a report on the work done since Pike's Peak restoration, and then on up to the party organized and appointed a committee to study the restoration of the city of Cleveland to extend his Western visit to Colorado and Pike's Peak. The invitation will be received in the near future.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 2.—The Board of Trade united to-day with the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce in a banquet for the President and Mrs. Cleveland to visit Macon.
